

The 4th Grade Gazette

June 14, 2018

Specials Rotations:

- Monday: Guidance
- Tuesday: No Specials
(Staffing change for EOGs)
- Wednesday: Engineering
- Thursday: No Specials
(Staffing change for EOGs)
- Friday: Music

Note from Mrs. Bosio

Books for Next Year

- I'm currently trying to accumulate books for emergent readers (K-2), if you have any at home that you don't use very much that you would like to donate to my class for next year, I would really appreciate it! Thank you so much! ☺

Lunch Schedule Change

Due to EOGs, on June 18-21 & June 25-26, our lunch time will be: 12:40-1:05.

Upcoming Events

- *Friday 6/15: EOG Review Packet Due
- *Friday 6/15: Yearbooks/ Yearbook Money Due
- *Monday 6/25: Reading EOG
- *Tuesday 6/26: Math EOG
- *Tuesday 6/26: Meet the Teacher (T2)
- *Wednesday 6/27: End of Year Class awards (12:00-12:30)

This Week's Focus

Reading-

- In reading this week we prepared for taking EOGs by talking about differences between reading for fun and reading for a test.
- We reviewed main idea, author's purpose, and summary question stems, and the different ways that these questions can be asked on a test.

Writing-

- In writing, we started our "I Survived Fourth Grade" writing project. This in-class writing project is with partners.
- Students started reading an "I Survived" historical fiction book to analyze and write about.

Math-

- In math this week, we reviewed the metric and customary measurement systems, area and perimeter, patterns, types of lines, angles, and triangles, and rounding and place value.

Social Studies -

- Mr. Gentile has been working on a "North Carolina Road Trip" project with our class during social studies. This project allows students to learn about important landmarks around North Carolina.